The Dos & Don'ts of Accessible PR

Five habits that help PR reach all audiences.

1. Use Plain Language

DO: Use common vocabulary and keep sentences short. The general public does not understand PR jargon.

DON'T: Write with confusing and lengthy paragraphs.

2. Describe All Images

DO: Use alt text for every image. Explain what the image is and why the image matters.

DON'T: Leave out important information in the alt text.

3. Caption Video Content

DO: Provide a written transcript of videos. Make sure to add captions to every video as well.

DON'T: Share a video if there is no transcript or captions available.

4. Use Hashtags Carefully

DO: Capitalize the begining of a new word. Be sure that the tag is not too wordy and confusing.

DON'T: Write in all lowercase, such as #accessibledesign

5. Provide Clear Links

DO: Clarify where the link leads. Be sure to inlude the title of the link's location.

DON'T: Write sentences like "click here" or "link" to lead the viewers to the resource.

Want to learn more about accessible PR? Follow the link to PR News- https://www.prnewsonline.com/